

Voices of Hamlet

Written by the MSC/Vital Shakespeare Ensemble.

Dear father, why have you left me here, with no purpose?

I feel lonely and powerless for my life is dreadful.

I feel as if someone, a cursed entity turned my world on it's head. I'm lost in a dark endless forest with no way out. Lost, confused, trapped in my own hellish reality.

I wish I could return this world to it's former glory.

I wish to reinstate a position where I can help, where I can prevent, where I can avenge.

Go away Claudius. Leave! You married my mother within a month of my fathers death. How dare you!

I want to say that mother you made a mistake marrying Claudius.

I feel that my hearts broken.

I have a chaotic mix of emotions. I am not rejoicing.

I would like to kill my uncle Claudius as revenge for my father's death.

I feel desperate and alone. I have nobody to talk to!

I want to move away.

I'd like to say I feel so sad about my dad to my mother.

I want to kill Claudius. I want my real father back.

I feel angry.

I feel like crap.

I have a broken heart but must not speak.

I feel sad. I feel like I don't have anyone to talk to. I feel broken and confused.

Gertrude I am so mad that you married Claudius.

I want to ask Horatio what I should do.

I would like to tell my mother that she was out of her noble mind to marry my uncle Claudius, for he killed my father!!

Death is everywhere and I feel scared I might be next.
